Re: Armadillo Club

Dear Kathy:

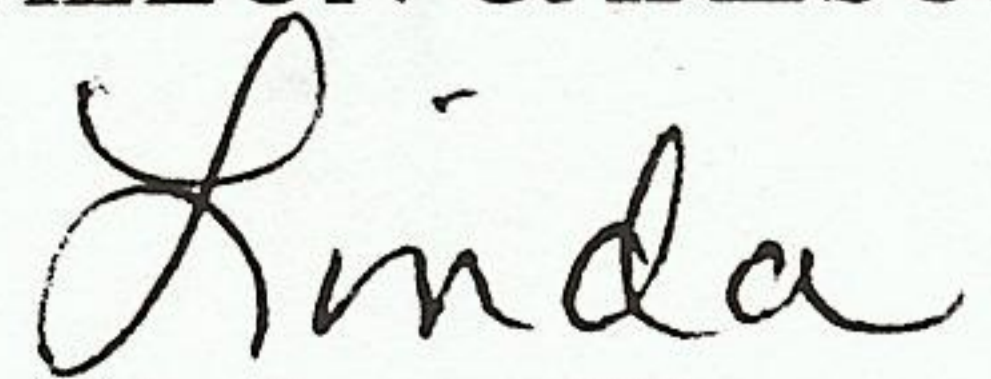

I was glad to get your letter. I know what you mean about it being good to get back to the real world. I spent the last week at the lake sans kids and hub. It was a little scary. I wasn't sure what to do with myself. I would think, "I'll make some cookies," but then I thought, "There's no one here to eat them." No one was telling me to do something, get something, bring something, cook something or wash something. It really made me wonder what I am going to do with my time (other than work) once my last one leaves home in three years. (I'll have two in college this year. Yikes!) As you can tell, I am still getting over the shock caused by unbridled freedom. In any event, I was glad to hear from you.

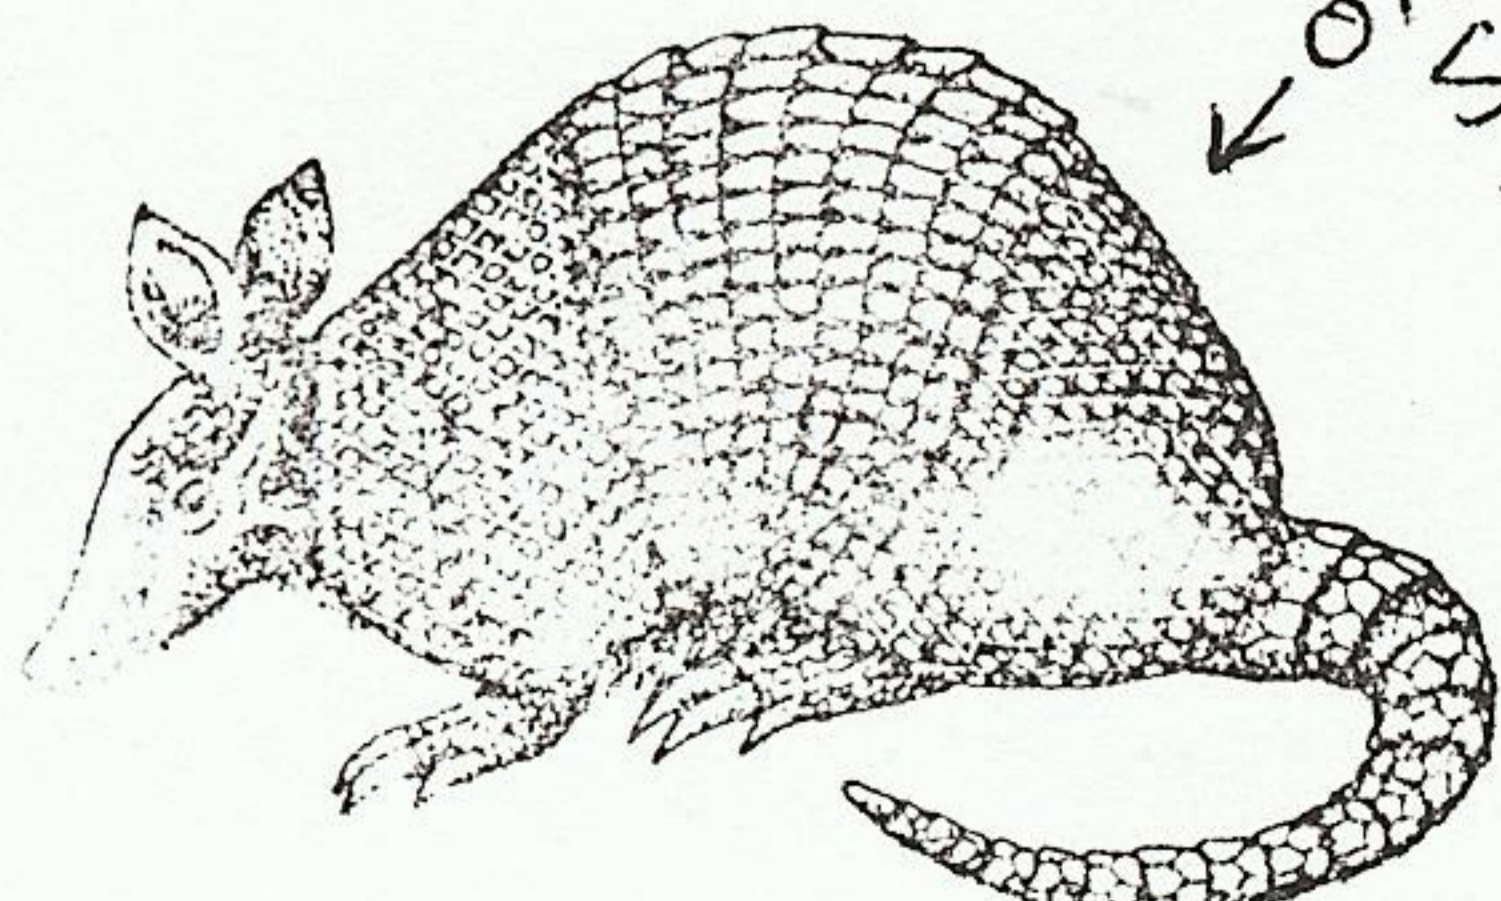

You are now an official Armadillo. I am enclosing another copy of the Questionnaire that I am using to create the Armadillo Directory. If you would like to be in the Directory (its optional for everyone), just provide as much or as little of the information requested. Also, for the affiliate members, if you would like to send me your professional resume (for networking purposes) I will put that in the directory after the more informal information so that the members will have an idea of the type of work you do.

Thanks for your kind words. I miss working with you, the other Luce Forward attorneys and Steve, although I still talk to Steve a couple times a month. Say hi to John Riedl for me, and welcome to the Club.

Very truly yours,

KILGALLON CARLSON & SIMKUS

Re: Armadillo Club:

Dear Kim:

I was glad to get your enthusiastic response. You are now an official Armadillo. I am enclosing another copy of the Questionnaire that I am using to create the Armadillo Directory. If you would like to be in the Directory (its optional for everyone), just provide as much or as little of the information requested. Also, for the affiliate members, if you would like to send me your professional resume (for networking purposes) I will put that in the directory after the more informal information so that the members will have an idea of the type of work you do. Again, it was great to hear from you.
