ARMADILLO ANNOUNCEMENTS

May 22, 1995

Dear Members:

Okay, so Cathy Crisham didn't have a baby. My attempt at independent verification of that fact was thwarted by circumstances beyond my control. Accordingly, this is an official retraction. It is my understanding that a different Kathy at Bates Meckler allegedly had a baby boy instead. Since, however, I have not actually seen the child, I will have to reserve the right to update and amend this letter based upon further investigation.

Please join us on May 25, 1995, at 11:45 a.m. at the Italian Village (upstairs) to wish Bridget Kelly farewell. As many of you know, Bridget will leaving us on or about June 1 when she will head for Fireman's Fund's San Francisco office of Caron, Greenberg & Fitzgerald and a September wedding. Those of you who are married or have been married can feel free to offer Bridget any advise you feel is appropriate (if you think you can handle that type of thing while eating.) Since on May 24 I will be celebrating (?) my 20th Anniversary, I will have plenty of useful advise for her. Please respond ASAP, today if possible or Tuesday. (704-3579) The table upstairs only accommodates 20, but they may be able to make some arrangement if I know soon enough that we will have more. Otherwise, I guess it will be "First come, first serve." Most of you received a phone call last week either from Hope or me. I am only sending one letter to each firm, so if your name above has an asterisk behind it, please make copies of this letter for the other members in your firm.

Investment News: We did not win the lottery. I invested our $27.00 in the Illinois $20 million lottery on May 6. We had three numbers on a few lines, but no cigar.

Employment News: Bonnie Bagdon advises that she is moving from Coregis to Corporation Counsel. She also advises that Coregis seems to be hiring attorneys in claim handling positions. She was working with lawyer malpractice claims. It appears that earlier rumors of long hours and rapid turnover may have been inaccurate. Bonnie advises that she has nothing bad to say about the company. It appears that those reports may have pertained to a different affiliated company set up to handle run-off business. Anyone looking for an in-house position in a claims handling capacity may want to talk to Bonnie. Unfortunately, I do not yet have her new phone number.

Theresa Williams advises that Haskell & Perrin is looking for senior coverage attorneys. Anyone interested should give Theresa a call. Darrah Cousinou advises that CNA will soon be hiring another senior coverage attorney in their in-house coverage unit. This is non-environmental coverage opinion work. Her unit writes coverage opinions for the CNA branches throughout the country. Darrah's description of her boss (extremely intelligent and a super guy) made me want to submit my resume. (As Trustee of Job Knowledge, however, I felt it was my duty to pass all info on to the members of the group.) In addition, they have flexible schedules and a great 401K plan. Anyone interested can get details (confidentially of course) from Mary Pat DeChant or Darrah Cousinou. Either will be glad to hand deliver your resume to the appropriate person if you would like. (Don't worry, they would probably recommend anyone. They get a finders fee if you get hired and stay six months!)

If anyone has broker's liability experience and wants to move to Indianapolis, there is a slot open at an insurance company for an attorney to supervise litigation. You would probably have to be at least a fifth year lawyer. Pay is in the 80s. If you know of someone who is interested, I'll bring the number of the person to contact to lunch Thursday.

Bad news/good news: My 13 year old put a basketball through one of my front windows last Tuesday. Fortunately, I hadn't yet called the window repair guy to fix the other front window that took a direct hit from a hockey puck two weeks earlier. Initial tests from my dad's checkup indicated the presence of cancer, but the ultrasound and biopsy proved otherwise.

Finally, we have received an invitation from an infidel, i.e. Dan Jordan who works with the gals at Caron, Greenberg & Fitzgerald.

The purpose: to wish Bridget Kelly farewell.

When: Wednesday, May 24, 1995, after 5:30 p.m.

Where: House of Beer, 16 W. Division

RSVP: Dan Jordan or Karen Vail at 629-2000

The note Dan faxed me indicated asked me to invite any of the other "porcupines." That Dan, he's just so cute, isn't he?

Please RSVP for lunch as soon as possible. I look forward to seeing you Thursday. Sorry for the late notice, I've been pre-occupied taking my dad for his tests.

Linda A. Weaver
